Sri Lanka Student Formulary

The Sri Lanka Student Formulary (SLSF) is the first publication of a Formulary for undergraduates of Medical and Allied Healthcare disciplines in Sri Lanka.

The SLSF provides core knowledge required particularly by medical students and doctors in their early postgraduate period for better understanding of medicines. Therefore the mechanisms of action, pharmacokinetics, important drug interactions and guidance for prescribing in special situations have been included under each class of medicine. Practice points and Patient advice have been included to help the students and junior doctors to focus on key issues in the management and to also improve communication with patients from early days of their training.
