

OBJECTIVES OF THE INTRODUCTORY CLINICAL PROGRAMME
2011/12 Batch

The following knowledge, attitudes and skills should be acquired by the students during the appointment. The students should:

1. understand the importance of punctuality, courtesy, respect to patients and clean attire.
2. get a basic understanding of how the hospital works
3. be able to interview and examine a patient and document the findings
4. know the meaning of; identifying clinical problems
5. understand medical ethics and communication skills

The above is the first step taken to achieve the wider goals of clinicals shown below:

At the end of all the clinical appointments the learners should be able to

1. take a full history and do a complete physical examination.
2. indentify the problems, based on clinical findings.
3. formulate a comprehensive summary of the clinical evaluation.
4. analyse the clinical findings and arrive at a differential diagnosis/diagnosis
5. plan and execute (under supervision) appropriate tests and bed side examinations.
6. propose a management plan for the patient and execute the same under supervision.
7. demonstrate a thorough theory knowledge on the common surgical conditions listed in the booklet.
8. apply the theory knowledge to the care of patient management.
9. carry out emergency management, pending help.

Some hard facts to be known about clinical teaching/learning

The following will give you an understanding about clinical environment and how to learn from it.

Teaching volume will not be uniform across the different units or at different times in the same unit. However, by working in different units during the clinical rotation you will have an ample opportunity to see all types of patients to learn from and around.

Patients are human beings with different attitudes, concepts and different physical and mind frame. They are not duty bound to co-operate with you. You must respect them and try to work along rather than withdrawing from 'difficult' patients.

Busy clinical work may not allow you to have comfortable and protected reading time. So read whenever or wherever possible. Doctors have to work long hours and so would be for medical students. You will have to learn your theory around your patients not solely from the book.

Students should possess the following:

1. Overcoat/Name badge
2. Equipment for proper clinical assessment
i.e. stethoscope/knee hammer/torch/tape etc.
3. Recommended books:
Hutchinson's Clinical Method
Ten Teachers – for Obstetrics & Gynaecology (section on history taking and examination)
Illustrated textbook of Paediatrics (Section on history taking examination)
